How to Live a Low-Carbon Life Christopher Goodall 2012-05-04 Climate change is the greatest challenge facing humanity: drastic reduction of carbon emissions is vital if we are to avoid a catastrophe that devastates large parts of the world.

Governments and businesses have been slow to act and individuals now need to take the lead. The Earth can absorb no more than 3 tonnes of carbon dioxide emissions each year for every person on the planet if we are to keep temperature and rainfall change within tolerable limits. Yet from cars and holiday flights to household appliances and the food on our plates, Western consumer lifestyles leave each of us responsible for over 12 tonnes of carbon dioxide a year - four times what the Earth can handle. Individual action is essential if we want to avoid climate chaos. How to Live a Low-Carbon Life shows how easy it is to take responsibility, providing the first comprehensive, one-stop reference guide to calculating your CO2 emissions and reducing them to a sustainable 3 tonnes a year.

Microelectronic Circuits: Analysis and Design Muhammad H. Rashid 2016-12-18
MICROELECTRONIC CIRCUITS: ANALYSIS AND DESIGN, 3E combines a breadth-first approach to learning electronics with a strong emphasis on design and simulation. This book first introduces the general characteristics of circuits (ICs) in preparation for using circuit design and analysis techniques. This edition then offers a more detailed study of devices and circuits and how they operate within ICs. More than half of the problems and examples concentrate on design and emphasize how to use computer software tools extensively. The book's proven sequence introduces electronic devices and circuits, then electronic circuits and applications, and finally, digital and analog integrated circuits. Readers learn to apply theory to real-world design problems as they master the skills to test and verify their designs. Important Notice: Media content referenced within the product
